

Letter of Intent

Today, the Republic of Turkey stands as a leading educational beacon, particularly through its prestigious universities in the medical fields and dental research. Turkish universities have secured distinguished global rankings, becoming a hub for scientists and influential figures a path. I aspire to follow in the future. The Turkish Scholarship, with its diverse opportunities, provides students with the environment to excel and innovate without constraints. This is why studying in Turkey has become my top priority and greatest ambition.

My passion for the healthcare sector began in the sixth grade when I served as the health officer for my class. I actively participated in first-aid training, and when a dentist visited our school, I excelled in demonstrating the correct dental hygiene techniques on a dental model for my peers and teachers. That moment was the spark that ignited my passion for dentistry.

My journey toward excellence has not been easy amidst war and displacement. During high school, I focused on scientific subjects as the foundation for my medical ambition. I challenged my circumstances, studying from within a tent, and achieved a GPA of 97.9%. This success was a victory of my will over reality and a testament to my ability to achieve excellence under the most difficult pressures.

Dentistry is the perfect blend of science and art. Through it, I can alleviate patients' pain, restore their smiles, and enhance their self-confidence, allowing me to leave a positive impact on the Turkish community. Supporting my choice is my artistic talent and my precise manual dexterity in carving and shaping, which are essential skills for dental practice.

My ambition goes beyond a bachelor's degree; I plan to pursue my Master's, PhD, and the Turkish Board certification. I aim to participate in advanced research for dental aesthetics and eventually establish my own medical supplies company to develop therapeutic technologies.

In conclusion, I look forward to returning to my homeland carrying both the knowledge I gained and the values of Turkish culture. I am deeply grateful to this country for being the best guardian of my journey, and I am determined to prove that hope is indeed born from the heart of suffering.

Name: Aseel Zakaria Mohammed Zourob

Palestine / Gaza

Email: aseelzourob26@gmail.com